Editor's Note:

This year's Yearbook is a product made by the students, for the students and about the students. It is the result of many hours of hard work, and input from almost everyone in the school. Each photograph, each word, each page that was laid out was a product of a student in the school. It's been a marvelous experience for me to see their dedication and desire. It's an effort we should all be proud of.

Gary Griffin
Advisor
...Casual but demanding. Fun but pressured. One big family but individual. It's a learning place where students learn from teachers and vice-versa.

...The Field School is like peanut butter; the work they make you do sticks to your ribs.

...The Field School combines knowledge with caring; both are vital to survive in the world.

...What The Field School is to me
   Is a place where I can see
   That learning is not dull but fun
   And you can choose any college when you're done.
   What The Field School is to me?
   There's no other place I'd rather be.

...The Field School is....
...a place where 1000 new ideas sprout each day.
...made of lots of textures and colors.
...a place where the teachers are people not monsters.
...a place for development of the individual.

...At Field you can still be loved even if you get it wrong the first time, or the second time.

...At Field you can scream out your opinion and then learn to listen to the others.
THE STUDENTS
Lance Anderson
TEACHERS

Elizabeth Ely
Mark Olcott
Gary Griffin
David Lear
Sharaine Lear
Karen Greenburg

Bob Hoffman
Bob Daly
Annette Bamberger
Maria del Carmen Varon

Allie Hardwick
Many thanks to this year's Yearbook staff:
Elizabeth Wansong
Jerry Lenoir
Michael Weaver
Margi Clarke
Nancy Sheehan
Tod van Ravenswaay
Lance Anderson
Andy Richardson
Jonathan Nash
Josh Robinson
John Jesse McFall
Nina Smith
Jenny Lobb
Randy Hinton
Nell Kelly
Danny Gaiper
Marci Fenton
Tony Lee
Karl Rosenberg
Andy Harris
Jeremy Sher
Dan Nathanson
Karen Greenberg
Gary Griffin